V. One practical tool for Crossing Cultures: “Equal Sharing”

When interacting with someone of another faith, show deep respect for them. Ask open-ended questions, and listen well to their answers. After they share, you can also share an equal (or lesser) amount of time on the same topic.

Sample Questions:

- That looks like a sacred symbol. What does it mean? (Ask about a shrine in a restaurant or a possibly symbolic necklace.)
- I know that Ramadan has just started. What does fasting mean to you?
- What routines help you remember to pray?
- I have heard that our two faiths have something in common. . . Do you agree?
